

art director

Mandy McGuire Bohner '83

Mandy Bohner has been teaching Art and Art History for 17 years at St. Nicholas, after many summers working in the Extended School Program. She has been involved with the Inner-City Art Program "In Your Face"; taught at the Hunter Museum of Art and UTC's Youth University; and most recently has served on the board of Good Shepherd School.

Mandy graduated from St. Nicholas School, Girls Preparatory School, and attended the Governor's School for Art. She has a Bachelor of Arts in Art History from Southern Methodist University and a Masters in Secondary Education with emphasis on Art Education from UTC. She is married to Alex and has two girls: Louisa, a Level 3, and Frances, who is 4 years old.

Right above: Mandy teaching Lower Primary children; below are Mandy's two daughters Louisa and Frances. Left and center: two pieces of original art by Mandy.

Early Learning Center Alum Lyn Martin is the illustrator of SMOKEY'S TALE

a new book by Andrew Ruffner.

The book is the story about the Tennessee VOLS Mascot, Smokey. It's for sale at Barnes and Noble at Hamilton Place and at Wild Hare on Signal Mountain. Lyn signed books at St. Nicholas during a recent visit when she also donated a copy of the book to the Stanyarne Burrows Library.

Lyn shared that Andrew is almost finished writing a story about Mike the LSU tiger and "he will be our next book!"

She is an award winning illustrator of children's books.

In 2009 Lyn was commissioned to create the St. Nicholas School 50th Anniversary commemorative painting. Prints may be purchased in the school office. More of Lyn's work can be seen on her website: www.lynmartinillustration.com

